

Christine S. Breves

Retired Executive Vice President, Business Transformation; previously Senior Vice President and Chief Financial Officer United States Steel Corporation

Director since 2022

Ms. Breves most recently was executive vice president, Business Transformation at United States Steel Corporation. Prior to that role, she was senior vice president and chief financial officer for United States Steel Corporation from 2019 through August 2022.

Ms. Breves began her career with Alumax Inc., where she held positions in accounting, maintenance and procurement. In 1998, Alumax Inc. was acquired by Alcoa, where she served in various leadership positions, including chief procurement officer. In 2013, Ms. Breves joined United States Steel Corporation as vice president and chief procurement officer. She held several positions of increasing responsibility, including senior vice president, manufacturing support and chief supply chain officer before serving as senior vice president and chief financial officer from 2019 until August 2022 when she transitioned into the role of executive vice president, Business Transformation until her retirement from United States Steel in December 2022.

Ms. Breves graduated with a bachelor's degree in business administration from the College of Charleston and a master's degree in business administration from The Citadel.

Ms. Breves received the Wall Street Journal Award given annually by the College of Charleston to the top business and economics graduate. Ms. Breves also received the 2007 Alumni of the Year Award from the College of Charleston School of Business and Economics. She received the 2018 Shipman Medal given annually by the Institute of Supply Management. Ms. Breves is a past chairperson of CAPS Research Advisory Board and is a past member of the national Board of Directors of the Institute for Supply Management. In addition to serving on the MPLX board of directors, Ms. Breves is a member of the boards of directors of Sylvamo Corporation and RXO Corporation.